Growing Interest in Agribusiness

The Annual FFA State Convention on June 13-16 in Exhibition Hall is a showcase of Wisconsin's best and brightest agribusiness students. The rich history of FFA dates back to 1928 and continues to bring together students and teachers to solidify support for agricultural business and education. FFA students will participate in panels, exhibits, workshops, contests, and seminars. They make the most of Exhibition Hall by filling it with over 3,000 of their distinctive blue corduroy jackets for the general assembly, casual social mixer, and banquet. The FFA operates on local, state and national levels. Student members belong to chapters at the local school level. The Chapters are then organized under the State Association headed by an agricultural education instructor as an advisor. The State Association conducts programs and hosts the annual state convention. We enjoy their enthusiasm and dedication to the nation's future agribusiness industry, and welcome them to Madison.
